

Join our team as a School Site Liaison

Are you a parent? A teacher? A team supporter?... we need your help reaching out to include as many students in our program as possible.

Here's what the job entails:

1.

This spring, or when the school year begins in the fall, connect with your school site administrator, school principal or the parent-volunteer group at your school site. Tell them a little about the program and how it benefits all students at your school.

2.

Ask them to host a Destination Imagination parent-information meeting. It's just one meeting, 1-2 hours in an evening or afternoon. Whatever works best for the school community. Get it on the calendar and remind them to publicize to their entire school community.

3.

Let us know when and where to come, and we will bring the presentation. We will give details about the Destination Imagination program, answer any questions and help get everyone started forming teams right on the spot!

Sign up TODAY and we'll contact you with more details.
We will have a Site Liaison team meeting in May.
